

‘No matter what the students’ background or institution, within a few months discipline problems are gone, and their focus on studies greatly increases. Parents are amazed at how their sons and daughters, even those who have had problems elsewhere, do so well in our institutions. This is a big achievement of Consciousness-Based institutions: beautifully behaving students.

‘Our students have won many academic and artistic awards: All-India science competitions, and awards in debate, painting, music, dance, and sports.

‘The graduates are easily placed in good jobs; we often get calls from corporations to send more of our graduates, because they distinguish themselves by their intelligence, sincerity, behaviour, and focus in the workplace.

‘Our colleges and universities do not select by entrance examination; we take everyone, and they rise to the top. This is the result of Consciousness-Based Education.’
